

DATA PROTECTION

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

This is a new legal framework for the protection of personal data enacted in the UK on 25 May 2018. It is the biggest change in data protection law in 20 years and provides new rules, rights and obligations relating to the management and use of personal data.

What is Personal Data?

Quite simply, any information about a living individual which allows him/her to be identified from that data, e.g. name, email address. Identification can be by the information alone or by combining it with other information held by an organisation, such as the Parish Council. Rushbrooke with Rougham Parish Council is committed to keeping your personal information private and secure.

Privacy Notice

The Parish Council needs to tell you what it does with your information and how it provides for the safe handling of your data. To do that, it has issued a Privacy Notice, which you are strongly encouraged to read.

The Privacy Notice provides details about when and why the Parish Council collects your personal information, how it is used, the limited conditions under which it may be disclosed to others and how it is kept safe. It also tells you about your rights and how to exercise them.

Important – do take time to look at the Privacy Notice...

Please consider what is involved and if you have any queries, questions or concerns, then contact the Parish Clerk who is the Data Protection Officer for the Parish Council.
